

MMU Academic Appointed to National Panel for Development of Elderly Care Standards

Dr. Olivia Tan Swee Leng has been appointed as a panel member for the development of the National Elderly Care Standards. The standards will serve as a key reference document in strengthening the quality of elderly care services in Malaysia.

The initiative aims to establish a comprehensive framework that addresses current needs, incorporates best practices, and supports the continuous improvement of care services for older persons across the country.

The National Elderly Care Standards will play an important role in enhancing service quality and promoting consistent care delivery, in line with Malaysia's national agenda under the 13th Malaysia Plan (RMK-13).

Dr. Olivia's appointment reflects recognition of her expertise and commitment to advancing policy and standards development in areas that contribute to social well-being and sustainable community development. Through her involvement, she will support efforts to ensure that the standards are responsive to evolving demographic needs and aligned with national priorities for an ageing society.
